Some days, you might
play with your friends, cook with your grandpa,

or pick flowers in your garden.

Other days,

your friends might be away on vacation,

your grandpa might go to a doctor's appointment, or it might rain and rain.

On days like that, some people draw,

others wach movies,

some cuddle,

and others listen to music.

Listening to music can take you away to the bottom of the ocean or to another planet.

It can make you feel like the sun, like you're swimming in a pool of clouds...

or even like you're dancing with elephants.

Sometimes you might not know how you feel until you hear a song.
